

Policy Home

Section J Index

Transitioning Students to Secondary Schools

Transition planning is critical for the success of students as they move from their elementary school to secondary school. Effective transitioning consists of many elements including, but not limited to, the efficient sharing of information between schools and planned activities that orient students to their new learning environment. Effective transitioning focuses on both the group and individual needs of the students transitioning in any particular school year. The Student Services department, in conjunction with the partner schools, will develop plans in each school year to facilitate the transfer of students to secondary school.

The Student Services department will share the plan outline of each school year with the Board of Trustees at the second meeting of April in each school year.

09 SEP 14 (232)